Where Self-Discovery Meets Grounded Success

The shifting landscape of the work environment necessitates a new breed of leaders who can effectively respond to the dynamic demands of the workplace. In today's complex business environment, effective leadership requires self-awareness, empathy, and the ability to inspire diverse teams.

This interactive half-day workshop uses a research-backed assessment tool to help leaders understand their innate motivations and leadership styles. With this knowledge, leaders can better connect with their teams, resolve conflicts, and achieve results.

Heightened Self-Awareness

FOR TEAM PERFORMANCE

Research shows that now more than ever, organizations need leaders who are self-aware, empathetic, and have high emotional intelligence to bring out the best in their teams.

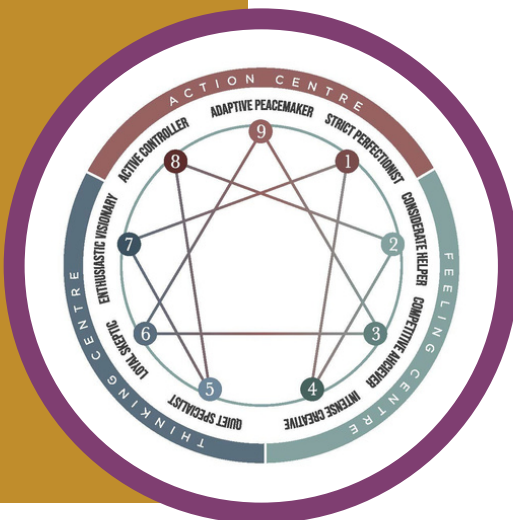

Self-awareness is critical, but many common personality tools like StrengthsFinder, DISC and Myers-Briggs do not provide the "why" behind behaviors.

THE ENNEAGRAM IS DIFFERENT.

Unlike many personality frameworks, the Enneagram model stands out because it does not "put you into a box." Enneagram offers a powerful roadmap to personal and professional development, with deeper insights into the core motivations driving behavior.

WHAT IS THE ENNEAGRAM?

NINE ENNEAGRAM STYLES

This transformative framework identifies 9 core motivations that drive actions. Leaders have found these insights to accelerate collaboration, resolve conflicts, and empower their teams, while also building empathy among team members as they appreciate complementary strengths.

Workshop Benefits

FOR ORGANIZATIONS

After this half-day emersion your team will be better equipped to able to will create a common language to help discuss each team members' strengths and blindspots. Twhat motivates others and how they can energize one another (or not!).

Laying the foundation for empathy, self-awareness, and highly effective collaboration is essential to thrive in today's corporate landscape.

Individuals gain insight into their strengths and blind spots so that they are empowered to make choices that allow them to unlock their full potential.
